Article III–Grievance Procedure Provision

Section 1.

A grievance is a claim by an employee, a group of employees, or the Association that there has been a violation, misinterpretation, or misapplication of any specific provision of this Agreement.

Section 2.

The purpose of this procedure is to secure, at the lowest level possible, equitable solutions to problems concerning employees and this Agreement which arise from time to time. The intended result should be unobstructed, two-way communication with respect to alleged grievances without fear of reprisal, a reduction of potential areas of conflict between staff members, administration, the Board, and the development of improved morale and effectiveness of staff members.

Section 3.

- A. All participants in the Agreement shall have the right to present grievances in accordance with these procedures.
- B. The failure of a grievant to act on any grievance within the prescribed time limits will act as a bar to further appeal, and should an administrator at any level fail to render a decision within the time limits, the grievant may proceed to the next level.
- C. No investigation or other handling or proceeding of any grievance by the grievant and/or Association representative(s) except for the Level I (Informal), shall be conducted during the hours of any contract day the grievant and/or said representative would ordinarily be performing work or services for the Employer.
- D. The time limitations indicated at each level should be considered the maximum and every effort should be made to expedite the grievance process. The specified time limits may be extended by mutual agreement.

Section 4.

A. Level I (Informal)

An attempt shall be made to resolve any grievance by informal, verbal discussion between the complainant and his/her immediate supervisor. If the aggrieved desires, an Association representative may be present; and if the supervisor desires, the Administrative Assistant may be present.

B. Level II (Formal)

If the grievance cannot be resolved informally at Level I, the aggrieved shall file the alleged grievance in writing, and at a mutually agreeable time, the aggrieved, and if the aggrieved wishes, the Association representative, shall meet with the supervisor to discuss the alleged grievance. If the supervisor wishes, the Administrative Assistant may also be present. Grievance forms shall be available in each building, and said form shall be signed by the grievant or an official representative of the Association. The formal, written grievance shall state the nature of the alleged grievance, shall note the specific clause or clauses of the Agreement claimed violated, misinterpreted or misapplied, and shall state the remedy requested. The filing of the formal, written grievance must be within fifteen (15) working days from the date of, or the knowledge of, such occurrence giving rise to the grievance. The supervisor shall make a decision on the grievance and communicate it in written form, with the reasons therefore, to the grievant, the Administrator, and, if the grievant desires, the Association, within fifteen (15) working days after the receipt of the grievance.

C. Level III

In the event a grievance has not been satisfactorily resolved prior to this level, the aggrieved shall file a written appeal of the immediate supervisor's written decision with the administrator or his designee within five (5) working days after the aggrieved has received the immediate supervisor's written decision. Within five (5) working days after the administrator or his designee has received the written appeal to the immediate supervisor's written decision, the aggrieved and, if the aggrieved desires, the Association representative, shall meet with the administrator or his designee to discuss the details of the grievance. The aggrieved, along with the administrator or his designee, and, if the aggrieved desires, the Association representative, shall attempt to resolve the grievance. The administrator or his designee shall file a written response with the reasons therefore within ten (10) working days and communicate it to the aggrieved, and, if the aggrieved desires, to the Association.

D. Level IV

If the grievance has not been satisfactorily resolved at this point, there shall be a final level of impartial binding arbitration. The Association must submit, in writing, a request on behalf of the Association and/or the aggrieved to the administrator or his designee, within thirty (30) working days from the receipt of the answer at Level III to enter into such arbitration. The arbitration proceedings shall be conducted by an arbitrator to be selected with mutual consent of both parties within seven (7) working days after such notice is given. If parties fail to reach an agreement on the arbitrator, the American Arbitration Association or the Public Employment Relations Board shall be requested to provide a panel of seven (7) arbitrators. If the parties fail to reach an agreement on the organization to provide the list, the organization to provide the list shall be determined by the flip of a coin. Should the list of seven (7) arbitrators submitted be totally objectionable to either party, a new listing shall be requested from the organization chosen to provide the lists. Each of the parties will alternately strike one name from the panel until only one shall remain. The party to exercise the first strike shall be determined by the flip of a coin. The remaining name shall be the arbitrator. The decision of the arbitrator shall be binding on both parties. The arbitrator, in his opinion, shall not amend, modify, nullify, ignore, or add to the provisions of the Agreement. The arbitrator shall only have authority to decide the issue or issues presented in writing by the Employer and the Association, and the decision shall be based only upon the interpretation of the meaning or the application of the express, relevant language of the Agreement. Expenses for the arbitrator's services shall be borne equally by the Employer and the Association.

Section 5.

- C. Deductions under this provision shall only include the regular periodic amounts required to maintain the employee as a member in good standing.
- D. The Association will notify the Employer, in writing, the exact amount of such regular membership dues to be deducted. Changes in the list and the appropriate authorization or withdrawal forms shall be received in the business office prior to the monthly payroll cut-off date. Failure to file timely changes will result in deductions or termination requests being made the following month. The Employer shall provide the Association with the necessary lists of employees, indicating those employees for whom dues have been deducted and forward said list to the Association treasurer monthly. This is to be accomplished within ten (10) days after each payroll date.
- E. The Association agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Employer, the Board, and the Employer's authorized representatives from any and all claims, costs, litigation, or other forms of liability that might arise out of the Employer's agreeing to make a dues deduction on behalf of the Association.

Step 1 shall be the salary for employees with two (2) or more years of experience within the job category.

On July 1, 2005, Media Clerks, Van Drivers, and Paraprofessional 1s shall be placed on Step 1 of the above schedule unless they are scheduled to be on Step 0 as described below. Employees who are transferred or assigned to a higher rate category shall be paid at the higher rate.

In the event an employee transfers or is assigned to a different job category listed on the above salary schedule, the employee shall maintain the same salary schedule step and longevity salary schedule step in the category to which the transfer is made as the employee had in the previous job category prior to the transfer or assignment. This provision is effective beginning with the implementation of the 1995-96 Agreement and is effective for all employees, who transferred from one job category to another prior to the implementation of the 1995-96 Agreement, on the date of the implementation of the 1995-96 Agreement.

However, an employee shall have available all of the hours for leave under this article according to the formula to prorate a percentage of the full benefit (eight hours for emergency leave), which is listed below. The number of hours per day provided to van drivers under the provisions of this article shall be determined by dividing the number of hours in each van driver's work agreement by the number of days that the van driver will be driving on an assigned van route.

Emergencies qualifying for emergency leave are those extraordinary situations requiring the employee's attention and which (1) cannot be attended to outside work hours and (2) are not covered by other provisions of this Agreement. Should an employee obtain a false medical certificate, or should an employee fail or refuse to furnish to the employer a medical certificate, then such employee may be disciplined appropriately, including dismissal.

Doctor leave may not be utilized in increments of less than one-quarter hour.

An employee shall not claim more hours for a leave taken under the provisions of this article than the employee would have worked on the day that the leave is taken. However, an employee shall have available all of the hours for leave under this article according to the formula to prorate a percentage of the full benefit (forty hours for bereavement leave), which is listed below. The number of hours per day provided to van drivers under the provisions of this article shall be determined by dividing the number of hours in each van driver's work agreement by the number of days that the van driver will be driving on an assigned van route.

Part-time employees hired subsequent to the ratification of the 1980-81 Agreement shall receive prorated bereavement leave (rounded to the nearer 1/2 day) provided under this Article according to the following schedule:

An employee shall not claim more hours for a leave taken under the provisions of this article than the employee would have worked on the day that the leave is taken. However, an employee shall have available all of the hours for leave under this article according to the formula to prorate a percentage of the full benefit, which is listed below. If on July 1 of a contract year an employee has reached the maximum accumulation of one hundred (100) days of sick leave under this article, and the employee would otherwise be eligible to accumulate additional sick leave had he or she not accumulated the maximum amount of sick leave, the employee shall be eligible to convert up to twenty (20) days of sick leave that would have been earned had the employee not been at the maximum accumulation according to the following formula:

1. For each five days of sick leave that would have been earned on July 1 of a contract year above the one hundred (100) day sick leave maximum accumulation, an employee shall earn one half (1/2) day of personal leave up to a maximum accumulation of two (2) personal leave days, except van drivers. Van drivers shall receive one day (1) of personal leave for each five (5) days of sick leave that would have been accumulated above the 100 day maximum to a maximum accumulation of two (2) personal leave days.

AND/OR

2. For each four days of sick leave that would have been earned on July 1 of a contract year above the one hundred (100) day sick leave maximum accumulation, an employee shall earn one (1) day of family illness leave up to a maximum accumulation of five (5) family illness leave days.

Conversion of sick leave under this article to personal leave under the provisions of the above formula shall occur only in five day sick leave increments for one half day of personal leave for all employees except van drivers, in which case conversion of sick leave to personal leave shall occur in five (5) day sick leave increments to one day of personal leave.
